Table of Contents

1. Introduction 1

2. Additional Qualification Guideline Conceptual Framework 2
   - Additional Qualification Course Implementation 3
   - Provincial Context 3

3. Professional Identity and the Vision of the Learner 4

4. Regulatory Context 5

5. Foundations of Professional Practice 6
   - Teacher Education Resources 7

6. Pedagogical Inquiry Framework 7
   - A. The Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession 8
   - B. Fundamental Rights-Based Frameworks, Legislation and Ontario Context 9
   - C. A Critical Stance in Pedagogical Inquiries 10
   - D. Theoretical Foundations of Honour Specialist Music 13
   - E. Practical Foundations of Musicianship 15
   - F. Technological Learning 16
   - G. Program Design, Planning and Implementation 16
   - H. Leadership in the Instructional Setting 19
   - I. Reflecting, Documenting and Interpreting Learning 21
   - J. Shared Responsibility for Learning 22
   - K. Professional Networking and Support 23
   - L. Research, Professional Learning and the Scholarship of Pedagogy 24

   - Experiential Learning 26

8. Assessment and Evaluation of Candidates 26
   - Appendix 1 29
Additional Qualification Course Guideline for Honour Specialist Music

1. Introduction

Additional Qualification courses support educators in creating a safe, inclusive and welcoming learning environment and provide the context for educators to explore the professional knowledge and practices needed, as they strive to honour the strengths, interests and needs of every learner.

Creating inclusive learning environments requires the commitment of all partners – educators, learners, parents, families, guardians, caregivers and the community. This vision of inclusivity, as well as working to sustain it, requires ongoing effort and shared responsibility. This involves collectively and critically reflecting on the impact of policies, practices and processes on inclusive learning environments.

The following critical reflections (Figure 1) provide one of many possible frameworks that may guide educators in fostering critical consciousness and creating and sustaining a vision of inclusive education:

Figure 1: Critical Reflections
2. Additional Qualification Guideline Conceptual Framework

The Honour Specialist Music Additional Qualification course guideline provides a conceptual framework for providers and instructors to develop and facilitate the Honour Specialist Music course. The foundation of this conceptual guideline framework is the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession. The guideline is intended to be a fluid, holistic and integrated representation of key concepts associated with Honour Specialist Music.

The Additional Qualification course guideline for Honour Specialist Music is organized using the following conceptual framework (Figure 2),
The Additional Qualification Course: Honour Specialist Music employs a critical, pedagogical lens to explore in a holistic and integrated manner theoretical foundations, learning theory, program planning, development and implementation, instructional design and practices, assessment and evaluation, the learning environment, research and ethical considerations related to teaching and learning music within and across the divisions. Through these explorations, candidates strengthen professional efficacy by gaining in-depth knowledge, refining professional judgment and generating new knowledge for practice.

Additional Qualification Course Implementation

Candidates’ diverse professional contexts, knowledge, skills, understandings and lived experiences will inform the emphasis given to key guideline concepts (Figures 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6). Critical to the holistic implementation of this course is the modeling of a positive learning environment that reflects care, diversity and equity and agency from an asset-based and ethical lens. This course supports the enhancement of professional knowledge, ethical practice, leadership and ongoing professional learning.

The Ontario College of Teachers recognizes that candidates working in the publicly funded school system, independent/private institutions or First Nations schools will have a need to explore topics, lived experiences and local interests of particular relevance to the context in which they work or may work.

In this document, all references to “candidates” are to educators enrolled in the Additional Qualification course. References to “learners” indicate those enrolled in school programs.

Provincial Context

The French language and the English language communities will also need to implement these guidelines to reflect the unique contextual dimensions and needs of each community. Each of these language communities will explore the guideline content from distinct perspectives and areas of emphasis. This flexibility will enable both language communities to implement Honour Specialist Music as understood from a variety of contexts.

Educators in Ontario work in varied and diverse educational contexts. Educators may find themselves in a variety of educational settings such as: a rural French language school, a Catholic school, an urban public school, a First Nation school, a provincial school, a private or independent school. Educators will reflect on the unique context of each community to enhance learning, and well-being.
3. Professional Identity and the Vision of the Learner

The professional identity of the Additional Qualification course instructor and course candidates conveyed in this Additional Qualification course guideline reflects the vision of the educator articulated in the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession, the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession and the Professional Learning Framework for the Teaching Profession, as well as through Additional Qualification consultations.

The professional identity of the educator positions members of the teaching profession as ethical, innovative scholars and practitioners, critical pedagogues who forward social and ecological justice. Additional qualification courses support this collective professional identity (Figure 3, Vision of the Educator).

!Figure 3: Vision of the Educator

---

The learner conveyed in this Additional Qualification (Figure 4, Vision of the Learner) is empowered, independent, a democratic citizen, knowledgeable, creative, collaborative, a critical thinker, ethical, reflective, accepting, inclusive, courageous, self-efficacious, a problem-solver, and whose voice, perspectives and sense of efficacy and agency are integral to shaping the teaching and learning process.

4. Regulatory Context
The College is the self-regulating body for the teaching profession under the Ontario College of Teachers Act, 1996. The College’s responsibility related to courses leading to Additional Qualifications includes the following:

- to establish and enforce professional standards and ethical standards applicable to members of the College
- to provide for the ongoing education of members of the College
- to accredit Additional Qualification courses and more specifically,
The program content and expected achievement of persons enrolled in the program match the skills and knowledge reflected in the College's “Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession” and the “Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession” and in the program guidelines issued by the College. (Regulation 347/02, Accreditation of Teacher Education Programs, Part IV, Subsection 24).

Additional Qualifications for educators are identified in the Teachers’ Qualifications Regulation (Regulation 176/10). This regulation includes courses that lead to Additional Qualifications, the Principal’s Development Qualification, the Principal’s Qualifications, the Primary Division, the Junior Division and the Supervisory Officer’s Qualifications. A session of a course leading to an Additional Qualification shall consist of a minimum of 125 hours as approved by the Registrar. Accredited Additional Qualification courses reflect the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession, the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession and the Professional Learning Framework for the Teaching Profession.

The Additional Qualification course developed from this guideline is open to candidates who meet the entry requirements identified in the Teachers’ Qualifications Regulation.

Successful completion of the course leading to the Additional Qualification Course: Honour Specialist Music, listed in Schedule E of the Teachers’ Qualifications Regulation, is recorded on the Certificate of Qualification and Registration.

5. Foundations of Professional Practice

The Foundations of Professional Practice conveys a provincial vision of what it means to be an educator in Ontario. This vision lies at the core of educator professionalism. The Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession (see Appendix 1) are the foundation for the development and implementation of the Additional Qualification course. These nine standards, as principles of professional practice, provide the focus for ongoing professional learning in the Additional Qualification Course: Honour Specialist Music. In addition, the Professional Learning Framework for the Teaching Profession is underpinned by the standards, articulates the principles on which effective educator learning is based and acknowledges a range of options that promote continuous professional learning. The Professional Learning Framework for the Teaching Profession identifies diverse pathways for professional development in education, which may be acquired through processes such as lived social/community experiences, professional communities of inquiry, cultural engagement, leadership, research, and critical reflection.
The ongoing enhancement of informed professional judgment, which is acquired through the processes of lived experience, inquiry and critical reflection, is central to the embodiment of the standards and the Professional Learning Framework for the Teaching Profession within this Additional Qualification course and professional practice.

The Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession serve as guiding frameworks that underpin professional knowledge, skills and experiences that educators require in order to teach effectively within and contribute to an environment that fosters respect, care, trust and integrity.

Teacher Education Resources

The College has developed teacher education resources to support the effective integration of the standards within Additional Qualification courses. These teacher education resources explore the integration of the standards within professional practice through a variety of educative, research and inquiry-based processes. These resources can be found on the College website.

These teacher education resources support the development of professional knowledge, ethical judgment and efficacy through critical reflective praxis. The lived experiences of Ontario educators are illuminated in these teacher education resources and serve as key supports for Additional Qualification courses.

6. Pedagogical Inquiry Framework

The pedagogical inquiry framework (Figure 5) for Honour Specialist Music supports a holistic, integrated, experiential and inquiry-based Additional Qualification Course. This pedagogical inquiry framework guides critical exploration into the professional knowledge, judgment, critical pedagogies and practices of course candidates.
A. The Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession

The Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession represent a collective vision of professional practice. At the heart of a strong and effective teaching profession is a commitment to learners and their learning. Members of the Ontario College of Teachers, in their position of trust, demonstrate responsibility in their relationships with learners, parents, families, caregivers, guardians, educational partners, colleagues, other professionals, the environment and the public.
The holistic integration of the standards within all course components supports the embodiment of the collective vision of the teaching profession that guides professional knowledge, learning and practice. The following principles and concepts support this holistic integration within the Additional Qualification course:

- understanding and embodying care, trust, respect and integrity
- fostering commitment to students and student learning
- integrating professional knowledge
- enriching and developing professional practice
- supporting leadership in learning communities
- engaging in ongoing professional learning.

Course candidates will continue to critically inquire into professional practices, pedagogies and ethical cultures through professional dialogue, collaborative reflection and the lenses of the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession.

B. Fundamental Rights-Based Frameworks, Legislation and Ontario Context

Local, provincial, national and international rights-based frameworks and legislation are paramount to the development and implementation of Additional Qualification courses. These highlighted the requirements and responsibilities for sustaining human rights, social justice, liberatory practices and accessibility for all.

AQ Providers, course developers and course candidates are entreated to engage in critical reflection and dialogue related to these frameworks and legislations and explore the significance for professional practice.

The list below, though non-exhaustive, provides a starting point for exploration within the context of the AQ course:

- Ontario curriculum
- Ontario Human Rights Code
- Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, S.O., 2005, c. 11
- Ontarians with Disabilities Act, S.O., 2001, c. 32
• Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms Part 1 Schedule B Constitution Act 1982
• Canadian Human Rights Act of 1977
• Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada: Calls to Action
• United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child
• United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples
• United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities

These documents inform the design, development and implementation of the Additional Qualification Course: Honour Specialist Music.

C. A Critical Stance in Pedagogical Inquiries

The following theoretical concepts are provided to facilitate the holistic design and implementation of this Additional Qualification course through pedagogical and professional inquiries.

This Additional Qualification course supports critical reflective inquiry and dialogue informed by the following critical concepts, which will be critically explored through equitable, holistic and interrelated processes:

• advocating for a critical examination of a wide range of pedagogical frameworks of music education that would support an anti-oppressive stance within music practice
• advancing a culture of critical inquiry that collectively examines biases, assumptions, beliefs and understandings, power and privilege associated with teaching and learning within the context of this Additional Qualification
• advocating for a culture in which the professional identities, practices and goals associated with the visions of educators as co-inquirers, scholars and researchers working alongside empowered learners is upheld in the co-creation of democratic, knowledge-rich learning environments
• fostering a critical community of practice that collectively examines and integrates Ontario’s curriculum, policies, frameworks, strategies and guidelines
• cultivating a school and/or system culture in which knowledge of First Nations, Métis, and Inuit ways of knowing, cultures, histories and perspectives are meaningfully and respectfully included in teaching and learning processes as valid means to understand the world
• cultivating shared leadership that respects diverse cultures, traditions, histories, social justice and the environment and explores ways to decolonize music education
• cultivating meaningful and respectful pedagogies of inclusion
• fostering dialogue on the concept of cultural appropriation in music education
• promoting a culture of shared leadership that thoughtfully examines critical pedagogy as a theoretical foundation associated with multiple ways of knowing and being in a musical community
• advocating for deconstructing and analyzing pedagogies that are specific to music education and local musical communities
• cultivating critical reflection and dialogue on the conceptual interrelationships between empowerment and knowledge (for example, praxis, dialectical thinking, dialogical learning, empowerment and cultural capital) and identifying pedagogies to promote a democratic music classroom
• nurturing a culture that collectively engages in the critical examination of pedagogical processes, including assessment and evaluation practices, that are linked to artistry and musicianship and that link curriculum to learners’ interests, strengths, inquiries, needs and well-being
• fostering a culture of critical and reflective leadership practices that is committed to creating and sustaining holistic learning environments that nurture the identities of learners and their intellectual, social, emotional, physical, linguistic, cultural, spiritual/religious and/or moral development
• fostering a critical culture of practice committed to thoughtfully examining collaborative leadership with learners, in-school personnel, parents, families, caregivers, guardians and the community to support the learning, identities and well-being of the school community
• facilitating a critical culture of pedagogical practice committed to the thoughtful examination of a variety of resources, including technological and communication resources, to strengthen professional knowledge and facilitate innovative assessment and evaluation practices in support of learning, independence, well-being and agency
• promoting a culture of shared leadership committed to enhancing professional practice through ongoing collaborative inquiry, dialogue, critical reflection, innovation and dialectical thinking
• cultivating an ethical culture that openly engages in critical reflection and dialogue to enhance collective ethical leadership, ethical sensitivity and ethical efficacy

• promoting a culture of dialogue that critically addresses issues associated with environmentally sustainable practices, policies and pedagogies within the music classroom

• nurturing a culture of ethical leadership that critically inquires into practices to promote responsible and active environmental stewardship, ecological consciousness, social justice and democratic citizenship within local, national and global contexts

• fostering a culture of shared leadership committed to critically inquiring into the design, creation and implementation of communities of inquiry that promote transformational professional learning and collective professional efficacy

• fostering a culture of reflective practice that critically inquires into the design of innovative practices and shared leadership in the ethical integration of information and communication technology to strengthen teaching and learning

• cultivating a critical culture of inquiry that is committed to thoughtfully investigating the integration of innovative strategies for creating and sustaining safe, healthy, equitable, holistic and inclusive learning environments that honour and respect diversity

• advocating for pedagogies to sustain lifelong learning in music for both educators and learners

• promoting critical exploration of the intersections between music education and social justice activism

• fostering a culture of critical inquiry and dialogue committed to the thoughtful examination of qualitative and quantitative research that impact professional practices, policies and pedagogies in support of learning, empowerment and agency

• cultivating a culture of inquiry and dialogue that critically examines pedagogical practices, policies and curricular experiences that support learners’ well-being and efficacy

• promoting a culture of interprofessional collaboration committed to critically inquiring into the collaborative development and implementation of Individual Education Plans (I.E.P.) and Transition Plans for learners that include the voices and perspectives of all those involved
• nurturing a culture that collectively engages in the critical examination of the ethical use of technology to support learners’ safety, privacy and well-being
• fostering a community of shared leadership committed to critically inquiring into how the school and/or system promotes learners’ creativity, innovation, change, culturally inclusive pedagogies and the democratization of knowledge
• fostering a culture of collegiality that challenges dominant discourses and assumptions related to Honour Specialist Music
• cultivating a culture of inquiry and dialogue related to individual and systemic manifestations of power (for example, cultural oppression, dehumanization and anti-intellectualism) and privilege to construct anti-oppressive pedagogies for music education (for example, challenging and interrogating hierarchies)
• fostering critical dialogue on the links between pedagogical practice and teacher as musician
• nurturing the essential skills of musicianship to support learning
• promoting a culture of dialogue on how skills developed in music can be transferrable to other areas of learning
• promoting a culture of dialogue on the integration of musical learning across multiple subject areas and curricula
• facilitating ways to develop pedagogical knowledge through independent artistic experiences.
• supporting collaborative community that implements the creative and critical analysis processes in the music classroom
• facilitating the identification and reflection on theories of child and adolescent physical and vocal development.

D. Theoretical Foundations of Honour Specialist Music

The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:

• cultivating a culture of practice that collectively critiques various theoretical frameworks underpinning this Additional Qualification, the principles fundamental to these frameworks and their practical applications in supporting learning
• fostering a culture of critical inquiry related to theories of development and identity formation to inform practice and support learner well-being, efficacy and agency

• advancing a reflective community of practice that explores and integrates critical pedagogy and socio-constructivist principles and practices as theoretical foundations for this Additional Qualification

• facilitating the critical exploration of a range of pedagogical research and scholarship related to music education

• facilitating knowledge-creation and mobilization regarding the significance of the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession as the main theoretical foundation for music pedagogy

• nurturing a culture of critical inquiry that examines the relationship between aesthetic and Praxial Philosophies in music education

• promoting a culture of shared leadership that is committed to curriculum design and programming committed to developing non-hegemonic music programs based on learners' inquiry questions, cultural histories and lived experiences

• cultivating a culture of critical inquiry related to provincial and global curriculum, resources and government policies, frameworks and strategies related to Honour Specialist Music

• facilitating a culture of dialogue and leadership committed to honouring learning theories and the individual learning strengths, profiles and needs of learners

• fostering an ethical culture that engages in critical reflection regarding the dimensions associated with creating and sustaining safe, healthy, equitable, inclusive, accepting and engaging learning environments

• nurturing a critical community of practice that collaboratively designs holistic and inclusive educational programs, builds on learners' abilities, interests and experiences and empowers them to reach their music learning goals

• promoting a culture of critical inquiry that examines the significance of relevant legislation at the municipal, provincial, federal and international levels which inform ethical professional practices in music education

• promoting a culture of professionalism and ethics within the context of music education using professional resources, government legislation and relevant literature
• facilitating dialogue regarding provincial legislation and policies that support accessibility for all
• facilitating dialogue regarding provincial legislation and policies that support human rights for all
• facilitating dialogue regarding provincial legislation and policies that support privacy for all
• advancing a culture of critical inquiry regarding understanding music terminology
• cultivating an innovative culture that explores pedagogical and cultural practices for integrating artistic expression to enhance teaching and learning
• fostering critical dialogue and action on music curriculum knowledge (for example, theory, composition, analysis, music history, active listening, critiquing)
• collaboratively promoting the scope and sequence of musical development.

E. Practical Foundations of Musicianship

The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:

• collaboratively facilitating knowledge mobilization and creation of various strategies and methods to foster musicianship (for example, various instrumental/composition techniques, accompanying, conducting, arranging/orchestrating)
• advancing personal musical development (for example, repertoire, instrumental and vocal skill, performance)
• fostering team musical development (for example, rehearsal techniques, demonstrating basic instrumental and vocal knowledge, ensembles, choirs)
• cultivating a critical exploration of perspectives, methods and strategies for performance practices
• fostering expression and emotion in and through music and how expression and emotion inform technical skills in music.
• fostering a culture of critical inquiry related to developing sight-reading, ear training and/or learning through imitation and call and response
• cultivating a culture of critical inquiry and dialogue that explores practices and strategies to de-Westernize current music education to be more inclusive of all practices.

F. Technological Learning

The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:

• advancing a culture of inquiry that fosters collaborative learning and enhances musical technological endeavours in arranging and composition (for example, social media, apps, emerging technologies)
• advocating for ethical responsibilities (for example, copyrights, downloads, sharing)
• collaboratively extending an understanding of the music industry (for example, entertainment law, music business, contracts, copyrights, studio production, promotion)
• promote a culture that critically integrates and explores various musical notation processes.

G. Program Design, Planning and Implementation

The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:

• cultivating knowledge-creation and mobilization related to the conceptual integration of program planning frameworks that reflect the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession to strengthen music programs
• collaboratively facilitating critical inquiry into the design, development and implementation of programs that are responsive to society’s diverse and changing nature and its influence on learning and well-being
• fostering a critical community of practice that promotes other forms of music to reflect society’s diverse and changing nature
• cultivating a culture of inquiry and innovative leadership related to program design, planning, development and implementation strategies and frameworks related to Honour Specialist Music
• advocate for educators’ professional efficacy creating a culture of inquiry that explores and extends understanding of the philosophical underpinnings that strengthen educators’ professional efficacy to support curricular and interdisciplinary integration
• promoting a culture of critical pedagogical practice that explores various approaches to curricular integration through diverse planning models, content and resource development, pedagogical practices and the implementation of equitable assessment and evaluation practices that are fair, transparent and equitable

• cultivating a culture of critical inquiry and dialogue regarding the integration of concepts related to differentiated instruction, universal design and the tiered approach in program planning development and implementation

• promoting research-based, leading-edge and culturally inclusive learning resources that support learning, engagement, self-identities, safety and well-being

• nurturing an ethical culture that advocates for and supports the use of a variety of assistive technologies to strengthen learner knowledge, skill and creativity to support learning and well-being

• fostering shared leadership in critically exploring, developing and implementing programs that reflect the ethical use of technology in support of learners’ safety, privacy and well-being

• promoting a culture of inquiry and innovation that supports leading-edge learning opportunities and programs and strategies that support individual educational pathways and goals

• fostering shared leadership in critically exploring, developing and implementing programs that respond to learners’ lived experiences, identities, narratives, development, strengths, inquiries, interests and needs

• promoting music program structures and performances of empowerment through cultural identities, personal narratives, skill development and local interests

• fostering a critical culture of transformative pedagogies to empower learners to express their cultural music

• collaboratively promoting music education and the associated advocacy needed to enable access for all learners

• advocating for the concepts of culturally inclusive music education (for example, cultural bearer, music praxis, dialectical thinking and teaching authenticity) to support inclusive program design, planning and development
• facilitating knowledge-creation and mobilization related to collaborative strategies that support learners’ well-being and self-regulation
• fostering a culture of practice that critically explores what it means to have voice and agency
• promoting strategies that honour and engage learner voice
• fostering a culture of shared leadership and critical inquiry related to the exploration and implementation of instructional processes that honour the learning profiles, voice, perspectives, strengths and experiences of learners
• fostering a culture of practice that includes planning and pedagogical processes that honour the traditions of all musical styles
• facilitating a safe, respectful and ethical school and/or system culture of learning where learners’ music knowledge, curiosities, contexts and experiences are leveraged to promote deeper engagement and understanding of course inquiries.
• promoting an innovative culture that critically inquires into various pedagogical documentation and assessment processes to advance program planning that supports learning, engagement and evaluation
• fostering a culture committed to reflect on the identity of a musician and music educator
• promoting critical dialogue and reflection on the artistic growth it takes to be a musician/composer/arranger
• advocating for diverse types of music as a motivational and healing tool
• advancing the critical implementation of diverse technologies (for example, instruments, tablets, digital audio workstations, recycled materials, digital composition, notation programs, sequencing programs) for arranging, composing and recording music
• collaboratively facilitating the rehearsal process, both individually and in group
• cultivating cultural expressions through music around the world (for example, local, regional and international artistry), including underrepresented cultural expressions
• advocating for music pedagogies that respectfully include underrepresented cultural expressions, identities, social locations and lived experiences
• advocating for LGBTQ+ voice and musicianship
• advocating for diverse musical expressions through First Nations, Métis, and Inuit cultures

• nurturing a culture that collectively engages in the critical exploration of the pedagogical progression of ensemble playing and musical methodologies that foster learners’ growth mindset and musicianship

• cultivating leadership practices within music education (for example, performances, musical excursions, student teaching, parent committees and cross-curricular integration)

• fostering a community of practice committed to critically implementing choral, ensemble repertory that promotes artistry and sustains a growth mindset within the context of ‘flexible’ music ensembles (i.e., primary level) and beginning choirs, concert bands (i.e., junior/intermediate level)

• cultivating a culture of collaborative reflection on understanding three part lesson plans (minds on, action, and consolidation), learning goals and success related to music

• promoting leadership in facilitating critical reflection relating and responding to music in both oral and written forms.

• critically facilitating strategies that foster leadership skills in managing resources and programs (for example, budget, fundraising, music leadership student council, merchandise, extra-curricular activities, inventory and liaising with community and other departments).

H. Leadership in the Instructional Setting

The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:

• promoting the professional identity, knowledge and leadership practices of educators as described in the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession, the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession, the Professional Learning Framework for the Teaching Profession and the Foundations of Professional Practice

• committing to the ethical importance of the efficacy and empowerment of music educators

• cultivating shared leadership related to creating and sustaining ethical, positive, equitable, accepting, inclusive, safe and engaging learning environments for learners, parents, families, caregivers and guardians

• modeling safe learning environments, practices and policies that honour learner agency, assets and interests
• advocating for the dimensions of inclusive learning environments in music education
• promoting a responsive culture that actively engages all members of the community by supporting dialogue and collegiality and nurturing a sense of belonging
• fostering a culture of leadership focused on creating and sustaining a collaborative community of empowered and engaged student musicians
• cultivating a culture of critical inquiry that advocates for engaging, trusting and inviting learning environments that promote learner voice and perspectives, cultures, leadership, critical inquiry and self-advocacy
• cultivate a culture of critical inquiry into a variety of instructional strategies and classroom management techniques specific to the teaching of music and to support learning and well-being
• fostering a responsible culture that critically inquires into safe, ethical and legal practices in the use of different technological tools that support respectful and caring pedagogical practices
• cultivating a culture committed to inclusive and innovative learning environments that integrate a variety of instructional strategies to respond to the interests and needs of all learners (for example, universal design, experiential learning, differentiated instruction, inquiry and the tiered approach)
• fostering a culture of ethical leadership committed to social justice that engages learners as active, democratic and global citizens in supporting environmental, social and economic sustainability
• promoting a culture of dialogue and critical inquiry that promotes the collective professional identity and leadership of educators reflected in the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession, the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession, the Professional Learning Framework for the Teaching Profession and the Foundations of Professional Practice
• cultivating a culture of consensus-building, participatory democracy and empowerment at the school and community levels
• collaboratively creating a culture that provides opportunities for musical expression and performance (for example, assemblies, graduation ceremonies, sites, soundtracks)
• collaboratively creating a culture that explores strategies to motivate and engage others in pursuing music education
• cultivate strategies to build community and foster and sustain a motivational learning environment
• collaboratively promoting opportunities for learners to explore the playing and caring for various musical instruments
• cultivating shared leadership in developing an understanding of healthy vocal techniques
• modeling enthusiasm for music artistry through continuous personal development
• critically reflecting on leadership in developing an awareness of health and safety practices associated with practicing, performing and listening to music
• fostering an awareness of the effects of personal and communal discipline in creating and practicing music (for example, ensembleship)
• facilitating critical dialogue that explores factors that promote and motivate self-artistic development

I. Reflecting, Documenting and Interpreting Learning

The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:

• fostering a culture committed to fair, equitable, transparent, valid and reliable assessment and evaluation methods that honour the dignity, emotional wellness, identities and development of all learners
• promoting a culture of inquiry that critically examines feedback processes that empower and inspire learners to positively reflect on and identify goals for their learning
• facilitating a community of practice committed to engaging learners in the critical analysis and interpretation of the learning process
• promoting a culture where authentic performance practice and feedback will inspire learners to accept alternative interpretations of the artistic process
• fostering a culture of critical inquiry that employs equitable and inclusive processes for reflecting, documenting and interpreting learning
• fostering a culture of inquiry that critically examines assessment, evaluation and reporting practices that align with the principles and processes of Ontario's curriculum, frameworks and policy documents
• facilitating an ethical community of practice that critically integrates assessment practices for the following three purposes: to provide feedback to learners and to adjust instruction (assessment for learning); to develop learners’ capacity to be independent, autonomous learners (assessment as learning); to make informed professional judgments about the quality of learning (assessment of learning)

• fostering a culture of practice that critically implements multiple assessment methods that are ongoing, varied in nature (for example, ensemble evaluation, self-evaluation, peer evaluation) and implemented over a period of time to support student learning

• fostering a culture of practice that critically implements multiple assessment methods to support learning diagnostic, formative and summative (for example, composing, improvising and interpreting/arranging)

• promoting a culture of leadership with critical reflection on multiple ways of learning through the lens of Culturally Relevant and Responsive Pedagogy

• facilitating a community of practice, inquiring into how music has been used as an oppressive tool

J. Shared Responsibility for Learning

The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:

• fostering an ethical culture that integrates a variety of effective communication and engagement strategies for authentic collaboration with parents, families, caregivers, guardians, school/board personnel and community agencies

• promoting a culture of shared leadership that fosters innovative, ongoing, open and transparent partnerships with parents, families, caregivers and guardians that honour and value shared decision-making, confidentiality, advocacy and leadership

• nurturing a culture of social justice where learners’ voice, perspectives and action are integral to the learning process, shared decision-making and leadership

• fostering an ethical culture that informs professional collaboration that support learning, well-being and leadership
• advocate for change based on critical knowledge of how multiple systems of oppression (for example, racism, sexism, heteronormativity, ableism) impact the learning and well-being of music learners
• fostering an ethical leadership culture that collectively and openly addresses biases, discrimination and systemic barriers in order to support learning, well-being and inclusion in music education
• fostering a culture of professionalism that collectively transforms structures and systems that will enable diverse voices and perspectives to be freely expressed and critically analyzed
• fostering an ethical culture and dialogue committed to shared responsibility and partnership that promotes social and ecological justice as conveyed in the Foundations of Professional Practice
• fostering a culture of collaboration with interdisciplinary teams and departments to support learning, well-being, self-advocacy and transitions
• fostering collaboration with local musicians and music educators to construct professional learning communities
• promoting the collaborative nature of the rehearsal process between conductor and student musicians
• promoting democratic pedagogies in music education whereby the teacher is the student and the student is the teacher
• fostering student engagement in leadership in music education
• promoting community members involvement in music education
• nurturing critical dialogue with members of the community regarding fundamental principles and goals of music education.

K. Professional Networking and Support
The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:
• nurturing networking supports (for example, peers, community organizations, providers, music stores, mentors) to foster student learning
• fostering a culture that shares uses a variety of strategies in order to manage programs and resources
• fostering connections with various partners and associations to support professional learning and collaboration
• fostering and sustaining self-artistic development
• promoting a community of educator researchers that enhance music education.

L. Research, Professional Learning and the Scholarship of Pedagogy
The exploration of the following guiding concepts will be facilitated through equitable, holistic and interrelated inquiry processes:
• fostering a reflective culture that critically investigates traditional, current and evolving pedagogical practices of instrumental and vocal music education programs in Ontario
• promoting a culture of shared leadership that critically and collaboratively explores professional practice through ongoing inquiry into theory and pedagogy/andragogy
• fostering professional learning through research, scholarship and leadership that may inform transformational practice
• cultivating a culture of critical pedagogy that critically utilizes research and the scholarship of pedagogy/andragogy to refine and advance teaching practice
• facilitating a culture of collaborative engagement in which research and the scholarship of critical pedagogy/andragogy are employed to advance communities of practice
• promoting performance practices to advance educators’ and learners’ critical consciousness in music education
• collaboratively fostering a culture of knowledge-creation, mobilization and empowerment to enhance professional practice and leadership
• fostering a culture that critically explores ethical responsibilities in research and scholarship that honour and embody the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession
• promoting a culture that critically explores forms of social oppression, power and privilege in the instrumental music education program
• promoting a culture that critically examines frameworks and perspectives of action research.
7. Instructional Design and Practices in the Additional Qualification Course: Honour Specialist Music

The instructional design and practices (Figure 6) employed in this Additional Qualification course reflect adult learning theories, effective andragogical processes and experiential learning methods that promote critical reflection, dialogue and inquiry.

Candidates collaboratively develop with course instructors the specific learning inquiries, learning experiences, holistic integration processes and forms of assessment and evaluation that will be used throughout the course.

In the implementation of this Additional Qualification course, instructors facilitate andragogical processes that are relevant, meaningful and practical to provide candidates with inquiry-based learning experiences related to program design, planning, instruction, pedagogy, integration and assessment and evaluation. The andragogical processes include but are not limited to: experiential learning, role-play, simulations, journal writing, self-directed projects, independent study, small group interaction, dialogue, action research, inquiry, pedagogical documentation, collaborative learning, narrative, case methodologies and critical reflective praxis.

Figure 6: Instructional Processes
Instructors embody the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession and the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession, honour the principles of adult learning, respect candidates’ experience, recognize prior learning, integrate culturally inclusive practices and respond to individual inquiries, interests and needs. Important to the course are opportunities for candidates to create support networks, receive feedback from colleagues and instructors and share their learning with others. Opportunities for professional reading, reflection, dialogue and expression are also integral parts of the course.

Instructors model critical inquiry, universal design, differentiated instruction and assessment practices that can be replicated or adapted in a variety of classroom settings.

Experiential Learning

The professional judgment, knowledge, skills, efficacy and pedagogical practices of candidates will be enhanced and refined through experiential learning and critical inquiry.

Candidates will be provided with opportunities to engage in experiential learning related to key concepts and aspects of Honour Specialist Music as collaboratively determined by both the instructor and course candidates. The intent of the experiential learning opportunities is to support the application and integration of practice and theory within the authentic context of teaching and learning. Candidates will also engage in critical reflection and analysis of their engagement in experiential learning opportunities and inquiries related to Honour Specialist Music.

The College’s standards-based resources help to support experiential learning through various professional inquiry processes. These resources can be found on the College web site.

8. Assessment and Evaluation of Candidates

At the beginning of the course, candidates will collaboratively develop with course instructors the specific learning inquiries, experiences and forms of assessment and evaluation that will be used throughout the course. Instructors will provide opportunities for regular and meaningful feedback regarding candidates’ progress throughout the course.

A balanced approach to candidate assessment and evaluation is used. It includes the combination of self, peer and mutual (instructor and candidate) assessment, as well as instructor evaluation. The assessment and evaluation strategies reflect effective, collaborative and inquiry-based practices. A variety of assessment approaches will be used that enable candidates to convey their learning related to course inquiries. The course provides opportunities for both formative and summative assessment and evaluation.

Central to candidates enrolled in Additional Qualification courses is the opportunity to be engaged in relevant and meaningful inquiries. Assignments, artefacts and projects enable candidates to make connections between theory and practice. At the same time, assignments also allow candidates flexibility, choice and the opportunity to design individual inquiry opportunities.

Learning processes support an in-depth exploration of concepts and inquiries. These processes occur over the duration of the course and are reflective of critical thinking and reflection as the candidate gains knowledge and skills over the duration of the course.

The evaluation practices will also support significant and in-depth critical inquiries utilizing a variety of processes over the duration of the course. These inquiry-based assessment processes provide opportunities for candidates to illustrate a depth of professional knowledge, skills, pedagogies, ethical practices and instructional leadership.

A final culminating experience in the course is recommended. This synthesis experience will reflect the in-depth knowledge and understanding gained as a result of engagement in this Additional Qualification. It will also include critical reflections and an analysis of a candidate's learning over time.

The following processes are provided to guide practices associated with assessment and evaluation practices within this Additional Qualification course and are reflective of experiential learning and critical pedagogies. This list is not exhaustive.

a) Pedagogical Leadership: co-construction, designing and critically assessing culturally inclusive learning opportunities that integrate voice and perspectives, strengths, interests and needs. The learning opportunities will incorporate a variety of technologies and resources and are reflective of Ministry of Education curriculum.

b) Pedagogical Documentation: assembling visible records (for example, written notes, photos, videos, audio recordings, artefacts and records of learning) that enable educators, parents, families, caregivers, guardians and learners to discuss, interpret and reflect upon the learning process.
c) Critical Reflection: critically analyzing educational issues associated with this Additional Qualification utilizing scholarly research through multiple representations (for example, narratives, written documentation and images or graphics)

d) Critical Action Research: engaging in individual and/or collaborative action research that is informed by the critical exploration of various action research approaches

e) Case Inquiry: critically reflecting on and inquiring into professional practice through case writing and/or case discussion

f) Transition Plan: critically reflecting on and analyzing a transition plan and generating recommendations for enhancement

g) Narrative Inquiry: collaboratively and critically analyzing narratives of teaching and learning through a number of lenses (for example, professional identity, professional efficacy, ethical leadership and critical pedagogies) utilizing the processes of narrative writing and/or narrative discussion

h) Pedagogical Portfolio: creating a professional portfolio that critically analyzes teaching and learning philosophies, assumptions, practices and pedagogies designed to inform ethical and democratic learning environments

i) Innovative Learning Experience: designing and facilitating an engaging, innovative learning experience that reflects differentiated instruction, universal design and the tiered approach

j) Partnership Plan: designing a comprehensive plan that engages learners, parents, families, caregivers, guardians and the school and local communities in collaborative partnerships that support learning, growth and well-being

k) I.E.P. Development: collaboratively developing an I.E.P. with parents, families, caregivers, guardians, learners and the school team

l) Visual Narrative: creating a visual narrative (for example, digital story) that helps to support the collective professional identity of the teaching profession and advances professional knowledge and pedagogy.

m) Mentoring: engaging in a reciprocal, learning-focused relationship

n) Artistic Creation: arranging scores for musical study, ensembles and school performances

o) Musical Development: exploring processes to support the development of fluency in an instrument.
Appendix 1

The Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession

The Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession represent a vision of professional practice. At the heart of a strong and effective teaching profession is a commitment to students and their learning. Members of the Ontario College of Teachers, in their position of trust, demonstrate responsibility in their relationships with students, parents, guardians, colleagues, educational partners, other professionals, the environment and the public.

The Purposes of the Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession are:

- to inspire members to reflect and uphold the honour and dignity of the teaching profession
- to identify the ethical responsibilities and commitments to the teaching profession
- to guide ethical decisions and actions in the teaching profession
- to promote public trust and confidence in the teaching profession.

The Ethical Standards for the Teaching Profession are:

Care
The ethical standard of Care includes compassion, acceptance, interest and insight for developing students’ potential. Members express their commitment to students’ well-being and learning through positive influence, professional judgment and empathy in practice.

Trust
The ethical standard of Trust embodies fairness, openness and honesty. Members’ professional relationships with students, colleagues, parents, guardians and the public are based on trust.

Respect
Intrinsic to the ethical standard of Respect are trust and fair-mindedness. Members honour human dignity, emotional wellness and cognitive development. In their professional practice, they model respect for spiritual and cultural values, social justice, confidentiality, freedom, democracy and the environment.

Integrity
Honesty, reliability and moral action are embodied in the ethical standard of Integrity. Continual reflection assists members in exercising integrity in their professional commitments and responsibilities.
The Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession

The Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession provide a framework of principles that describes the knowledge, skills and values inherent in Ontario’s teaching profession. These standards articulate the goals and aspirations of the profession. These standards convey a collective vision of professionalism that guides the daily practices of members of the Ontario College of Teachers.

The Purposes of the Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession

- to inspire a shared vision for the teaching profession
- to identify the values, knowledge and skills that are distinctive to the teaching profession
- to guide the professional judgment and actions of the teaching profession
- to promote a common language that fosters an understanding of what it means to be a member of the teaching profession.

The Standards of Practice for the Teaching Profession are:

Commitment to Students and Student Learning
Members are dedicated in their care and commitment to students. They treat students equitably and with respect and are sensitive to factors that influence individual student learning. Members facilitate the development of students as contributing citizens of Canadian society.

Professional Knowledge
Members strive to be current in their professional knowledge and recognize its relationship to practice. They understand and reflect on student development, learning theory, pedagogy, curriculum, ethics, educational research and related policies and legislation to inform professional judgment in practice.

Professional Practice
Members apply professional knowledge and experience to promote student learning. They use appropriate pedagogy, assessment and evaluation, resources and technology in planning for and responding to the needs of individual students and learning communities. Members refine their professional practice through ongoing inquiry, dialogue and reflection.

Leadership in Learning Communities
Members promote and participate in the creation of collaborative, safe and supportive learning communities. They recognize their shared responsibilities and their leadership roles in order to facilitate student success. Members maintain and uphold the principles of the ethical standards in these learning communities.

Ongoing Professional Learning
Members recognize that a commitment to ongoing professional learning is integral to effective practice and to student learning. Professional practice and self-directed learning are informed by experience, research, collaboration and knowledge.
Appendix 2

Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA) Text: Figure 1: Critical Pedagogical Stance from page 4 of this PDF

Figure 1 is graphic representation describing critical reflections. At the centre of the image is a Venn diagram of Policies, Practices and Processes. Surrounding this Venn diagram are critical inquiries related to these policies, practices and processes.

In terms of policies, reflections include:

- Who is privileged by this policy?
- Who is not privileged by this policy?
- How does the policy honour the rights of all involved?
- Who is involved in the development and implementation of policies?

In terms of practices, reflections include:

- What school level practices support inclusion?
- What might be barriers to particular practices?
- What actions help a school community to uncover “invisible barriers” to inclusive practices?
- What counts as knowledge?

In terms of processes, reflections include:

- Whose voices have been included in the process?
- Whose voices have not been included in the process?
- How are all learners accepted and included within the school community?
- How do we enable advocacy within all school processes?
Appendix 3

Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA) Text: Figure 6: Instructional Design and Practices from page 28 of this PDF

Figure 6 is a graphic representation of the possible andragogical instructional processes implemented in Additional Qualification courses. At the centre is a Venn diagram. In the right side of the Venn diagram, candidates are invited to explore the use of Experiential Learning, Critical Action Research, Narrative, Reflection, Collaborative Learning and Self-directed projects. In the left side of the Venn Diagram, candidates are invited to explore the use of Case Methodologies, Pedagogical Documentation, Dialogue, Independent Study, Small group interaction and Inquiry. These inquiry-based learning experiences interconnect at the centre to form a multiplicity of multifaceted processes that can enhance professional practice. The inquiry-based learning experiences outlined in the Venn diagram are related to the following four areas: Pedagogy, Assessment and Evaluation, Instructional Design and Practices and Program Planning, which surround the Venn diagram in an outer circle.
Appendix 4

College Standards-Based Resources

Information pertaining to the following standards-based resources, which support learning through professional inquiry, is available through the College web site.

